SSFD ONLINE GRADUATE PROGRAMS
DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION STATEMENT

The School of Social and Family Dynamics online graduate programs at Arizona State University values diversity, equity, and inclusion as we strive to lead, model, and teach in a way that challenges social inequalities and injustices as we strive for meaningful equity. We honor ASU's Diversity Philosophy:

Diversity and excellence are inextricably linked at Arizona State University...We endorse the idea that engaging diversity facilitates comprehensive understanding, effective practice, and informed responsiveness to national and global imperatives. As an institution, ASU is committed to these ideals and to creating an environment that promotes inclusion, respect, community, and appreciation for the full tapestry that comprises the human experience.

Diversity is defined in terms of representation and inclusion. Representation reflects the extent to which our students, staff, faculty and administrators proportionately reflect the regional and national populations served by our public institution. Inclusion encompasses empowerment and voice among all members of the university community in the areas of scholarship, teaching, learning, and governance.

We recognize that race/ethnicity and gender historically have been markers of diversity in institutions of higher education; we further believe that diversity includes additional categories such as socioeconomic background, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, veteran status, nationality and intellectual perspective.

Family and Human Development: Online Master of Science (MS)

Forging New Expertise for Today's Families in a Complex World

INTRODUCTION

The MS in Family and Human Development is a non-thesis degree program that focuses on the practical application of research. It does not require a GRE for admission and can be completed in as little as 15-18 months, enabling students to enter the job market sooner.

This 30 credit-hour terminal master's degree prepares students to help individuals and families succeed in their relationships and achieve positive outcomes working and living within their communities. An applied practitioner-oriented approach teaches students to evaluate and consume research and translate research into best practices. Students in this program gain knowledge and skills necessary to promote healthy individual and family development as they study the factors that promote successful relationships and positive outcomes for individuals, families, and communities across the lifespan. Graduates often pursue careers working with children, youth, and adults in human, social, and government agencies.

Courses are taught by experienced faculty who are trained in the area and have considerable expertise in delivering high-quality online education.

This Graduate Handbook supplements the Graduate Catalog and the Graduate College Policies and Procedures (<https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/policy-manuals>) distributed by the ASU Graduate College. Graduate students should be familiar with and observe all requirements and procedures as defined in those publications.

ADMISSIONS INFORMATION

Admission to the Online MS in Family and Human Development requires the submission of all application materials cited in the Graduate Catalog (<https://webapp4.asu.edu/programs/t5/majorinfo/ASU00/LAFAMHDMS/graduate/false/searchOnline>) and the program in Family and Human Development. At a minimum, applicants are expected to meet GPA requirements established by the Graduate College. Questions regarding admissions procedures should be directed to the Graduate Coordinator at graduatesanford@asu.edu.

A. Admission Requirements

Applicants must have a baccalaureate degree from an institution with regional accreditation; in most cases, an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 3.0; evidence of good fit with the program; a strong personal statement, including quality writing; and positive letters of recommendation.

B. Application Requirements

The Sanford School application process is completed online through ASU Graduate Admissions (<https://webapp4.asu.edu/dgsadmissions/Index.jsp>). In addition to the application form and materials required by the Graduate College, including official transcripts and official TOEFL test results for international applicants (please see <https://admission.asu.edu/international/graduate/english-proficiency>), the following information must be submitted for the supplemental application to the Master's program in Family and Human Development. All materials must be submitted online via the Graduate College by the deadlines posted on the program website.

Requirements for the Supplemental Application to the master's program in Family and Human Development:

- a. Two letters of recommendation. These letters should be from people who know you as a student or in a professional capacity. Letters from family members or friends do not meet this criterion.
- b. A resume that summarizes the academic and employment experiences of the applicant, as well as applicable community involvement.
- c. A 4-5 page, double-spaced personal statement addressing the following:
 - State your professional goals, interests, and reasons for desiring to enroll in this program,
 - Describe your strengths that will help you succeed in the program and in reaching your professional goals,
 - Describe the significant responsibilities you have held,
 - Include any additional information that you feel will help the committee evaluate your application.

C. Processing of Applications

Credentials submitted by the applicant are evaluated by the Graduate College and by the Online Graduate Admissions Committee.

D. Concurrent Degrees

A student may pursue concurrent masters/doctoral degrees provided the degree programs are in different areas with prior written approval from the head of the academic unit for each degree program and the Graduate College. A separate online application is required for each degree program.

Students cannot pursue both Family and Human Development and Sociology Master's degrees from ASU.

E. Preadmission Credit

A Master's degree from ASU requires, at a minimum, 30 credit hours of approved graduate-level coursework. Credit hours used towards a previous degree cannot count towards these 30 credit hours. With approval of the Sanford School and the Graduate College, students may complete select courses within the online master's degree in Family and Human Development prior to admission to the program. Should a student be admitted to the program within three years of completing this coursework, a maximum of 12 of these hours may be counted towards the master's program given the student earned grades of "B" or better in the courses and they were not used towards a previous degree. Please see the ASU Graduate Policies and Procedures (<https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/policy-manuals>) for further information regarding Academic Requirements and Pre-Admission Credit.

F. Transfer Credit

Transfer credits, either from within ASU or from another institution, are not accepted. FAS 500 and CDE 501 may be replaced by equivalent graduate courses in the program (with FAS, CDE, or SOC prefixes) with approval by the program director/academic advisor.

G. Admission and Denial Criteria

The Online Graduate Committee will review completed applications and make recommendations for admission or denial, which will be forwarded to the Graduate College. Criteria for admission will include:

- a. Evidence of outstanding potential from previous academic record, and previous experience as addressed in the applicant's personal statement;
- b. Professional goals that are compatible with the Online Master's program;
- c. The decision of the committee will be one of the following:

Regular admission is granted when the applicant meets the criteria of adequate area preparation, satisfactory grade point average, favorable letters of recommendation, completed Supplementary Information Form and Personal Statement, and when enrollment limits have not been met.

Provisional admission is granted either when the applicant has less than a satisfactory academic record but shows potential for high achievement as a graduate student as evidenced by high GPA and/or strong letters of recommendation, or the applicant meets the criteria for regular admission but has had insufficient preparation for the designated area for the graduate study. In such cases, the conditions for admission are stated on the letter of acceptance. The student must meet these stated conditions prior to advancement to regular status. The student is responsible for initiating a change in graduate classification after the conditions of provisional admission have been fulfilled. If the conditions for admission are not met within the allotted amount of time, the student will be asked to leave the program. Students who are dropped from the program may reapply for admittance when they can present evidence that the conditions have been met. Presentation of such evidence does not guarantee re-admittance.

Admission is denied when either the student does not meet the requirements necessary for admission, the student does not rank sufficiently high to be selected for available slots, or it is deemed that the graduate program does not match an applicant's needs, goals, and interests. Students who decide to reapply can do so during the next admission term or apply to a different program for the same term in which admission was denied.

B. Capstone and Culminating Experience Courses

1. Overview

The Online Master's degree in FHD has a non-thesis culminating experience as its capstone. This applied capstone and culminating experience consists of a 3-course sequence. Each part of the Capstone experience will be customized to fit the individual student's professional and academic needs and interests. The culminating experience is as varied as the student's interests and individual circumstances. Ultimately, this culminating experience will provide students with a deeper understanding of family and human development, as well as professional competencies and insights.

2. Capstone Project Part I: Professional Development (FAS 586; 3 credits)

Capstone Project I allows students to explore and begin to specify their professional goals and means of obtaining those goals. This process of professional exploration and goal specification will help ensure that, together, the student and capstone instructor can craft personalized capstone projects and experiences that maximize the student's potential of obtaining his/her goals.

3. Capstone Project Part II: Exploration/Specialization (FAS 587; 3 credits).

Capstone Project II allows students to delve into their area(s) of interest, developing a greater depth and understanding of topics that influence children, youth, and families, and that further the student's academic and professional goals. Students develop and enhance their writing, research, and communication skills through various assignments.

4. Capstone Project Part III: Application (FAS 588; 3 credits).

Graduate College Policy requires students to earn a grade of “B” or better in a culminating experience course. In this master’s program, Capstone III is considered the actual culminating experience course; therefore, a grade of B or better is required in Capstone III. Students who fail to achieve a final grade of “B” or better in Capstone III must retake the course.

Capstone III is taken in a student's last session of the program. This is the point at which students apply what they have learned through their coursework. Once again, the emphasis is on a personalized and useful experience for the students. In consultation with a capstone instructor, the student will fashion a field experience plan that allows the student to gain real-world experience related to family and human development. Activities that fulfill the field experience requirement are vast and varied, often limited only by a student's creativity. Proposals need to be submitted and approved prior to registering for and starting Capstone III; deadlines are provided prior to the start of each semester and must be followed.

C. Specialization in Life Course and Aging

If you are interested in aging and development across the lifespan, consider supplementing your Family and Human Development degree by completing a Specialization in Life Course and Aging. Students can obtain this specialization by completing the following courses (in addition to the 30 hours listed above under Course Requirements):

FAS 591 Infant/Toddler Development
FAS 591 Adolescent Development
FAS 591 Aging

Specialization courses are typically offered each Fall B and Spring B; however, see course schedule for course offerings. Only students in the specialization can register for the specialization courses: <https://thesanfordschool.asu.edu/degree/graduate/ms-family--human-development> scroll down to Additional Information courses for the specialization can be found there.

Through the generosity of special contributors, the T. Denny Sanford School of Social and Family Dynamics can provide some students with funding to support their interests in the aging process and/or addressing the needs of an aging population. Students who complete this specialization are strongly encouraged to apply for these scholarships: <https://thesanfordschool.asu.edu/degree-programs/graduate-programs/family-and-human-development-ms/financial-support>

D. Plan of Study (iPOS)

1. Approval of Plan of Study

A Master's plan of study should be carefully worked out with the School so that it meets the requirements set forth in this document. To assist with this process, course maps can be found on the Sanford School Family and Human Development MS Online Program webpage. Additionally, step by step directions for completing the Plan of Study and selecting your committee chair are available on the Master’s Student Canvas Organization site (students are added to this organization upon admission to the program). The graduate advisor can also provide guidance on completing the Plan of Study and can be contacted by emailing gradadvisingsanford@asu.edu. The Plan of Study should be completed by the student by the semester in which the student earns 50% of the required hours for degree completion. The Plan of Study is then submitted to the graduate advisor and Online Graduate Program Director of Family and Human Development in the Sanford School for approval and to the Graduate

College for final approval.

2. Changes in Plan of Study

Necessary changes can be initiated and petitioned by the student. The changes must be pre-approved by the Online Graduate Program Director of Family and Human Development and the Graduate College. Students should be aware that changes to the Plan of Study can extend the time a student is in the program, impact ability to qualify for financial aid, or both.

E. Advising

The graduate advisor is available to advise students about course schedules, program milestones and requirements, guide students through a range of procedures, and provide guidance on school and university policies. Any questions about coursework, paperwork, policies, or university services should be addressed to the graduate advisor at gradadvisingsanford@asu.edu.

EXPECTATIONS, POLICIES, AND PROCEDURES

A. Enrollment and Tuition

Graduate students register through MyASU according to their enrollment appointment. Details regarding registration and course drop/add procedures are provided in the Registration and Tuition Payment Guide at <https://students.asu.edu/registration-and-tuition-payment-guides>.

B. Timelines

1. Deadlines

In accordance with Graduate College policy, students must successfully complete all requirements for the Master's degree within 6 years of admission to the Master's program. The Online Graduate Program Director of Family and Human Development, the head of the academic unit, and the dean of the Graduate College must approve exceptions. The Online Graduate Committee will recommend students who do not successfully complete all of the requirements of the Master's program within these timelines for withdrawal from the Master's program. A student may appeal actions concerning dismissal by petitioning the Director of the T. Denny Sanford School of Social and Family Dynamics within 10 business days of receiving the withdrawal notice from the Online Graduate Committee. In this circumstance, the Graduate Director/School Director will review student appeals. Students should refer to the official ASU Graduate Policies and Procedures document (<https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/policy-manuals>) for details.

2. Dates

The university calendar found in the current Graduate Catalog lists important dates and deadlines, including the deadline for applying for graduation. Check these and other dates carefully. Specific dates and deadlines that apply to all graduate students (online and on-ground) can be found at <https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/graduation-deadlines>.

C. Maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress

1. GPA and Academic Probation

Graduate students are required to maintain a minimum of 3.0 GPA in (a) all coursework taken for graduate credit (courses numbered 500 or higher; Graduate GPA), (b) all coursework in the student's approved plan of study (including those 400 level courses that are taken for graduate credit; Plan of Study GPA), and (c) all coursework taken at ASU post baccalaureate (Overall GPA).

- a. If a student's Graduate GPA, Plan of Study GPA, and/or Overall GPA falls below a 3.0, the student will be placed on academic probation and receive a deficiency notice from the Online Graduate Committee.
- b. The student will be required to raise the Graduate GPA, the Plan of Study GPA, and the Overall GPA to a minimum of a 3.0 within one semester. Any coursework that earns either a Z or a Y grade cannot be counted to raise the GPA.
- c. If the student fails to raise the Graduate GPA, the Plan of Study GPA, and the Overall GPA to a minimum of a 3.0 within the allotted time (as defined in b above), the student will receive a letter from the Online Graduate Committee notifying him/her that he/she will be recommended for withdrawal from the Program.

- d. A student may appeal actions concerning dismissal by first petitioning the Director of the T. Denny Sanford School of Social and Family Dynamics within 10 business days of receiving the withdrawal notice from the Online Graduate Committee. In this circumstance, the Graduate Director/School Director will review student appeals. At the discretion of the Graduate Director/School Director, probation may be extended by one semester under certain circumstances. Students should refer to the official ASU Graduate College Academic Progress Guidelines (<https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/policy-manuals>) for additional details.

2. Continuous Enrollment, Leave of Absence, and Registration Requirements

All graduate students enrolled in the Online Master's program must be registered for a minimum of one hour of appropriate graduate level credit in the department/school in which they are pursuing their degree program. According to Graduate College Policy, admitted graduate students are required to be registered for a minimum of one appropriate graduate level credit hour during all phases of their graduate education, including the semester he/she is admitted. Registration for every fall semester and spring semester is required. For students admitted during the summer semester, registration is required for that summer semester. Grades of "W" and/or "X" are not considered valid registration for continuous enrollment purposes. Applications to graduate from the program will not be approved by the Graduate College if there is a break in continuous enrollment.

Graduate students planning to discontinue registration for one semester or more (i.e., take a leave of absence) must submit a Leave of Absence request via their iPOS (Interactive Plan of Study) using the Petitions tab and selecting 'Leave of Absence' from the drop-down menu when adding a petition. This request must be submitted and approved before the anticipated semester of non-registration. Students may request to maintain continuous enrollment without course registration for a maximum of two semesters during their entire program. Students who do not register for a fall or spring semester without an approved Request are considered withdrawn from the university under the assumption that they have decided to discontinue their program. Students removed for this reason may reapply for admission by submitting a new application to resume their degree program; the application will be considered along with all other new applications to the degree program. Students should refer to the official ASU Graduate Policies and Procedures document (<https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/policies-forms-and-deadlines/policy-manuals>) for details.

3. Incomplete Grades

A grade of "I" (incomplete) is given at the discretion of the instructor only when a student doing acceptable work is unable to complete a course because of illness or other conditions beyond the student's control. The student and instructor must complete a Request for Grade of Incomplete form (<https://students.asu.edu/forms/incomplete-grade-request>). The grade of "I" should be granted only when the student can complete the unfinished work with the same instructor.

- a. Students who receive a grade of "I" in graduate courses (500 level or above) may have up to one calendar year to complete the course for a grade, although the specific time allotted to complete coursework depends on the requirements of the incomplete set forth by the instructor (see the Request for Grade of Incomplete form:

<https://students.asu.edu/forms/incomplete-grade-request>). Students completing work for a course in which they received a grade of “I” must continue to maintain continuous enrollment.

- i. If after one calendar year the student has not completed the course for a grade, the grade of “I” will become a permanent part of the transcript. The student will have to re-register and pay fees for the course to receive credit. The grade for the repeated course will appear on the transcript but will not replace the permanent “I.”

4. Withdrawal from Classes and Program

- a. Course Drop/Withdrawal. You may remove a class from your current schedule by dropping/withdrawing from it up until the appropriate deadline for that class. You can request a drop/withdrawal from a class by signing into My ASU, clicking on the Registration link in your My Classes box, and selecting Drop/Withdrawal. Please refer to the Tuition Refund Policy to determine if dropping or withdrawing from classes will generate a tuition refund. The timing of when you make your request determines whether it is a drop or a withdrawal.

Before the drop/add deadline: A drop/withdrawal request made prior to the drop/add deadline for your class will be considered a drop. A drop will remove the class from your current schedule with no record of your enrollment in the class on your official transcript.

After the drop/add deadline: A drop/withdrawal request made after the drop/add deadline for your class will be considered a withdrawal. A withdrawal will remove the class from your current schedule and will result in a grade of “W” on your official transcript. The grade of “W” has no impact on your GPA.

- b. Complete Session Withdrawal. If you no longer plan on attending or completing your classes in a given session, you can remove all of them from your current schedule by requesting a complete session drop/withdrawal up until the appropriate deadline. This should be viewed as a last resort as there may be serious academic and financial consequences. Please refer to the Tuition Refund Policy to determine if dropping/withdrawing from classes will generate a tuition refund and carefully consider the Continuous Enrollment policy as it relates to a complete session withdrawal/drop. The timing of your request determines whether it is a drop or a withdrawal. Note that according to Graduate College Policy, admitted graduate students are required to be registered for a minimum of one appropriate graduate level credit hour during all phases of their graduate education, including the semester he/she is admitted. Applications to graduate from the program will not be approved by the Graduate College if there is a break in continuous enrollment. You are strongly encouraged to contact your advisor at gradadvisingsanford@asu.edu if completely withdrawing from a session would result in a break in continuous enrollment.
- c. Voluntary Complete Withdrawal from a Graduate Degree Program. Students who wish to entirely withdraw from a graduate degree program can do so using a Voluntary Complete Withdrawal from a Graduate Degree Program form (<https://students.asu.edu/voluntary-withdrawal-form>). Once processed, students must fully re-apply and be re-admitted to the university to resume graduate enrollment. Note that this form/procedure does not withdraw students from courses for any semester. Students may choose to complete the courses in which they are currently enrolled or must contact the Registrar's Office to withdraw from courses for which they are registered.

5. Compassionate and Medical Withdrawals

Due to unfortunate circumstances, students sometimes need to withdraw from courses. The policy for medical/compassionate withdrawals is listed at the following location:

<https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/medical-withdrawal>

D. Academic (Grade) Grievance

Students wishing to appeal a final course grade will begin the process by conferring with the instructor, stating the evidence, if any, and reasons for questioning that the grade received was not given in good faith. The instructor will review the matter, explain the grading procedure used and show how the grade in question was determined. If the grading dispute is not resolved, the student may appeal to the Online Graduate Program Director of Family and Human Development, who may confer with the instructor to handle the problem. Additional details regarding this process are available at <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/academic-grievance>.

E. Professional Conduct

1. Expectations and Committee Review

All graduate students admitted to a Master's program are subject to the general standards of academic good standing of the university. However, academic standards do not necessarily guarantee that a student will graduate from the program. Because students obtaining a Master's degree from the program are often placed in positions of dealing with the public, they must also demonstrate the requisite qualifications for successful professional performance, including sound mental health, interpersonal skills, basic communication skills, appropriate professional conduct, and satisfactory performance in field experiences.

- a. The Online Graduate Committee will review graduate students who demonstrate behaviors or characteristics that make it questionable that they can succeed in the profession.
- b. The committee's review may result in a decision to disqualify the student or the specification of conditions under which continued participation is permitted (e.g., probation).
- c. Students who wish to appeal the decision of the Online Graduate Committee may do so in writing to the Director of the T. Denny Sanford School of Social and Family Dynamics within 10 business days of receiving the decision from the Online Graduate Committee. In this circumstance, the Graduate Director/School Director will review student appeals.

2. Code of Conduct

The Student Code of Conduct sets forth the standards of conduct expected of students who choose to join the university community. Students should be familiar with ASU's Code of Conduct (<https://eoss.asu.edu/dos/srr/codeofconduct>) and the Arizona Board of Regent's Code of Conduct (<https://public.azregents.edu/Policy%20Manual/5-308-Student%20Code%20of%20Conduct.pdf>).

3. Academic Integrity & Dishonesty

Students are expected to maintain the highest levels of personal and academic integrity (this will get you further in life than being dishonest).

Under the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy, “Each student must act with honesty and integrity, and must respect the rights of others in carrying out all academic assignments.” Violating academic integrity is considered a serious offense by the university and is treated accordingly. Violation of academic integrity includes, but is not limited to, all of the following: cheating on quizzes (e.g., sharing answers via group chats, taking quizzes/exams with other students, using unapproved resources), aiding academic integrity policy violations, having unauthorized possession of quizzes, academic deceit (e.g., fabricating data or information), inappropriately collaborating, falsifying academic records, self-plagiarism (i.e., submitting work from a different course), and submitting the work of another person as your own (plagiarism).

Academic integrity violations may result in a failing grade for the particular assignment/quiz/exam, a failing grade for the entire course (indicated on the transcript as a grade of “E”), course failure due to academic dishonesty (indicated on the transcript as a grade of “XE”), loss of registration privileges, disqualification, or suspension or expulsion from the university. If you ever have any questions about what forms of student work are acceptable, contact your instructor before you turn in the assignment. You are required to be familiar with the policies at <https://thesanfordschool.asu.edu/resources/undergraduate-students/academic-honesty>.

4. Handling Disruptive, Threatening, or Violent Individuals

All incidents and allegations of violent or threatening conduct by an ASU student (whether on- or off-campus) must be reported to the ASU Police Department (ASU PD) and the Office of the Dean of Students. If either office determines that the behavior poses or has posed a serious threat to personal safety or to the welfare of the campus, the student will not be permitted to return to campus or reside in any ASU residence hall until an appropriate threat assessment has been completed and, if necessary, conditions for return are imposed. ASU PD, the Office of the Dean of Students, and other appropriate offices will coordinate the assessment in light of the relevant circumstances. For further information, please visit ASU's policy on Handling Disruptive, Threatening, or Violent Individuals on Campus.

5. Sexual Harassment and Violence

Title IX is a federal law that provides that no person be excluded on the basis of sex from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity. Both Title IX and university policy make clear that sexual violence and harassment based on sex is prohibited. An individual who believes they have been subjected to sexual violence or harassed on the basis of sex can seek support, including counseling and academic support, from the university. If you or someone you know has been harassed on the basis of sex or sexually assaulted, you can find information and resources at <http://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/faqs/students>.

As a mandated reporter, I am obligated to report any information I become aware of regarding alleged acts of sexual discrimination, including sexual violence and dating violence. ASU Counseling Services, <https://eoss.asu.edu/counseling>, is available if you wish discuss any concerns confidentially and privately.

B. Student Support Resources and Organizations

- Student Support Services Summary: <https://eoss.asu.edu/dos/supportservices>
- American Indian Student Support Services: AISSS provides services to all indigenous students to ensure they will successfully progress towards educational excellence and graduate to become self-reliant individuals who effectively give back to their families and communities. We provide warm, inclusive spaces which students like you have affectionately named “home away from home.” There are AISSS locations on all campuses where students study and relax, and Success Staff are available both on-campus and online to be there for you. <https://universitycollege.asu.edu/student-support/aiyss/>
- Black African Coalition and Resources for Students of Color: The Black African Coalition at Arizona State University does hereby dedicate itself to unifying students of African descent (hereby known as ASU Black, African and Caribbean students) toward the following common goals and objectives for this community: supporting our recruitment, retention, and graduation, increase visibility as a campus presence through the support of social programming and Black Student Unions on each campus and through the activities and participation of Black & African campus organization and advocate for the voices of all ASU Black, African and Caribbean students and organizations. <https://eoss.asu.edu/student-and-cultural-engagement/get-involved/black-african-coalition>
- Graduate and Professional Student Association. GPSA represents all ASU graduate students, regardless of location, and provides useful resources and support to graduate students. Visit <https://gpsa.asu.edu> to learn more.
- Graduate College Student Organizations: ASU has over 1,000 student-run organizations that are designed to support ASU academics, culture, religion, art, politics, sports, music, science and much more. The Graduate College encourages graduate students to enrich their ASU experience by getting involved and networking with others in the organization(s) of interest. Visit <https://graduate.asu.edu/current-students/enrich-your-experience/resources-and-services> to see just a sample of the Graduate Student Organizations available.
- International Students and Scholars Center (ISSC). The ISSC works to facilitate the success of international students and scholars during their time in the United States. Contact the ISSC at 480-727-4776, issc@asu.edu, or visit <https://issc.asu.edu/>.
- LGBTQIA+ Student Resources: Arizona State University promotes a campus that is open, safe and supportive by providing educational opportunities and advocacy programs that empower students of all gender identities and sexual orientations, and their allies, to thrive in an inclusive and affirming academic and campus environment.

- Office of Inclusion and Community Engagement: <https://inclusion.asu.edu/resources>
- Resources for Students with Families: ASU Family Resources serves all ASU families by providing university families with appropriate resources, advocating for the needs of families, and expanding family responsive policies to ensure a healthy and productive environment. <https://eoss.asu.edu/students-families>
- Student and Cultural Engagement: Student and Cultural Engagement creates a transformational opportunity to engage in culture, community and global leadership at Arizona State University. Students find opportunities to explore the Sun Devil Community through community building, global leadership, inclusion, cultural celebrations, civic discourse and community change. Student and Cultural Engagement promote the development of Sun Devil Culture through self-expression, learning, and heritage with a formation of an ASU culture rooted in inclusion, individual experience, community values, and the Sun Devil Way. Join in contributing to the broader community! <https://eoss.asu.edu/student-and-cultural-engagement>
- Veteran Support Resources: Arizona State University and ASU Online consistently rank among the top universities for veterans because we want veterans, active military members and their families to succeed, achieve their goals and move on to the next chapter in their lives. We welcome and value the leadership skills and ability to meet challenges that you honed while serving. We are your new team and we're here to support you, encourage you and have your back at every step. Visit <https://veterans.asu.edu> and <https://military.asu.edu>, to learn more.

C. Health and Wellness Resources

ASU's Live Well Community is dedicated to supporting you in your health and wellbeing journey and offers resources relating to financial, emotional, physical, and social wellness.

- ASU Health Services is dedicated to the well-being and educational success of each individual student by providing high quality health care that is accessible, affordable, and compassionate. Learn more at <https://eoss.asu.edu/health>
- ASU Counseling Services offers confidential, time-limited, counseling and crisis services for students experiencing emotional concerns, problems in adjusting, and other factors that affect their ability to achieve their academic and personal goals. Counseling services can help students identify solutions or support and connect students with those services at ASU or in the community. Contact the counseling services office at 480-965-6146 or visit <https://eoss.asu.edu/counseling>. ASU's 24-hour crisis hotline can be reached at 480-921-1006.

D. Disability Accommodations

In compliance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504, and the Americans with Disabilities Act as amended (ADAAA) of 2008, professional disability specialists and support staff at the Student

Accessibility and Inclusive Learning Services(SAILS) facilitate a comprehensive range of academic support services and accommodations for qualified students with disabilities.

Qualified students with disabilities may be eligible to receive academic support services and accommodations. Eligibility is based on qualifying disability documentation and assessment of individual needs. Students who believe they have a current and essential need for disability accommodations are responsible for requesting accommodations and providing qualifying documentation to SAILS. Every effort is made to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities.

Qualified students who wish to request an accommodation for a disability should contact SAILS by going to <https://eoss.asu.edu/accessibility>, calling (480) 965-1234 or emailing Student.Accessibility@asu.edu.

E. Student Business Services

Student Business Services offers a variety of student account services including tuition and billing, student refunds (including financial aid), receipt and payment processing, support for past due accounts, third party sponsorship assistance and Perkins Loan repayment. Visit <https://students.asu.edu/contact-tuition-billing>, call 1-855-278-5080, e-mail sbs@asu.edu or start a chat through the My ASU Service Center.

F. Student ID Cards, SunCard Services

Although ASU Online students can obtain a student ID card online (<https://cfo.asu.edu/cardservices>), online students are not required to have a student ID card. In classes that require identification for testing procedures, other official forms of identification (e.g., driver's license) are acceptable.

G. IT Help Desk

Visit <https://uto.asu.edu> for information on how to receive immediate technical support, view a knowledge base, or submit a request for service.

GRADUATION

A. iPOS Completion

The student must have a completed iPOS on file in order to apply to graduate. An iPOS must not show any errors generated by the system, no “I”, “D”, or “E” grades, and must be approved by the Sanford School and the Graduate College before applying to graduation.

B. Applying to Graduate

After confirming the iPOS has been approved, students can log onto MyASU and click on “Graduation” under the “My Programs and Degree Progress” module, where students will find a link to the Graduation Application. Students must follow graduation application deadlines shown by the graduation application link on MyASU. If students apply after the deadline, a late fee will be imposed on the application by the Graduation office. Additional information can be found at <https://graduation.asu.edu/graduates/apply>.

After completing the graduation application form online, the registrar will review the student’s iPOS to make sure that they meet degree requirements. The Registrar is not, however, in charge of events and ceremonies.

C. Graduation Ceremonies

Graduating students have a number of choices when it comes to selecting which ceremony or ceremonies to attend. Typically, these ceremonies are held at varying times/dates so students can choose to attend one, all, or none of the ceremonies described below. Tickets and a timely RSVP are typically required in order to attend the following ceremonies. Be sure to review the appropriate websites and my.asu.edu in order to RSVP and request tickets for guests. You can view a summary of available ceremonies and ceremony dates and times by visiting <https://graduation.asu.edu/ceremonies/latest>. You can also read about the different ceremonies at <https://graduation.asu.edu/ceremonies>.

1. Graduate Commencement

This ceremony, hosted by the Graduate College, is for all graduate students who are graduating from ASU. This is the ceremony at which President Crow addresses those in attendance and officially confers degrees upon all graduates. Please review <https://graduation.asu.edu/ceremonies/latest> for the latest ceremony information.

2. The College Convocation

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (The College) holds a convocation ceremony specifically for The College students. At this ceremony, the student’s name will be called and the student will be allowed to walk across the stage. Students can learn more about The College Convocation by visiting <https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/student/graduation>.

3. Special Interest Ceremonies

Special Interest and cultural convocations are a time for smaller groups to gather and celebrate students’ graduation. The smaller setting provides the opportunity for individual recognition. Special interest convocations include the American Indian Convocation, Asian/Asian Pacific American Convocation, Black African Convocation, Hispanic Convocation, International Student Convocation, Rainbow Convocation, and Veterans Honor Stole Ceremony. For more information about a particular special interest convocation, please visit <https://graduation.asu.edu/ceremonies/special>.

4. The Ceremonies Office

The ceremonies office is the office that manages the ceremonies, and can be contacted at commence@asu.edu, 480-965-3565 or
Office of University Ceremonies
ASU Fulton Center, 4th Floor
P.O. Box 877705, Tempe, AZ 85287-7705

D. Attire (Cap and Gown)

All attire is provided by the ASU bookstore and a third party vendor. The Sanford School will not provide the attire for the students and students will have to contact the ASU bookstore and vendor if they have questions about sizing and receiving their order. Please see <https://graduation.asu.edu/graduates/dressing> for more information on attire.

E. Receiving Your Diploma

Diplomas are mailed to students approximately six to eight weeks after the degree conferral date (please check academic calendar for deferral dates for each semester). Graduates will receive an email notification via their ASU email account when their diploma is mailed. Diplomas are mailed to the home address on file with the University Registrar services. You can find more details on getting your diploma at: <https://students.asu.edu/diploma>.
