

THE TRAUMA SENSITIVE SCHOOLS SYMPOSIUM

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The Trauma Sensitive Schools Symposium is a grassroots effort to collectively disseminate the latest data in trauma-informed school systems and care frameworks to Arizona educators, school staff, and administrators in a collaborative and empowering setting. The symposium is a joint effort that originally began through the Kohl's Mindful Me program at Phoenix Children's Hospital and is currently sustained by the Institute of Education Sciences (IES)-funded PFS CARE program and the Arizona ACEs Consortium. The 2022 Symposium saw over 300 attendees across the full-day. This year's 7th Annual 2023 Symposium will take place on June 6th, 2023, virtually through the Whova platform with the Arizona School Boards Association (ASBA) as this year's additional sponsor.

THE 2023 TRAUMA SENSITIVE SCHOOLS SYMPOSIUM

Keynote Speaker

To be Announced!

Resilience is Resistance

This year, the Trauma Sensitive Schools Symposium will host a range of engaging sessions that will expand participants' knowledge of trauma-sensitive school systems and education approaches - particularly focusing on the power of resilience, and the many definitions the word holds, in our current educational systems and communities at large.

Register Now!

PAST SYMPOSIUM THEMES & SPEAKERS

2022

Mind full or Mindful: Systems Change to Support Wellness

Keynote Speaker

Marc A. Brackett, PhD

Director, Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence

Professor, Yale Child Study Center
Co-Creator, RULER Approach to SEL

2021

Healing Collective Trauma: Together Moving Forward

Keynote Speaker

Rick Griffin

Director of Training and Curriculum
Development, the Community
Resilience Initiative (CRI)

Contact us

pfscare@asu.edu